

Nutrient film system

Alta Verapaz, Guatemala

It consists of creating a recirculating film of nutrient solution. The nutrient solution is pumped from a reservoir into growth trays or PVC tubes with plants, where it comes into contact with their roots before returning to the reservoir.

irrigation

reduced waste water

aquaponic

water conservation